

MORNING APPEAL

FRIDAY, JANUARY 19

L. P. Fisher, newspapers' advertising agent, 21 Merchants' Exchange, San Francisco, is our authorized agent. This paper is kept on file in his office.

A DEMAND FOR FREE COINAGE.

A bill has been introduced in the Colorado Legislature which authorizes the Governor to present a bar of silver bullion of the requisite weight and fineness at the United States mint for coinage. It also appropriates sufficient funds from the State Treasury to carry the case through the courts in the event of the government refusing to coin the bullion.

It is claimed by some eminent lawyers that under the constitution the government is required to coin both gold and silver for the people. The people of Colorado a few years ago undertook to test their claim in the courts. They sent a bar of bullion to Philadelphia and had it presented at the mint for coinage. The mint officials, acting upon the advice of the Director, would not accept the bullion. An appeal was made to the courts for a decree to compel the Secretary of the Treasury to order the bullion coined. Before a final decision was reached Secretary Foster went out of office and as the proceedings had would have to be commenced anew the subject was dropped. Now, if the bill before the Colorado Legislature becomes a law, the question will be pressed to a final decision by the Supreme Court. —Journal.

A FEARLESS NEWSPAPER.

Jim Barry's Star has turned another volume.

As an absolutely fearless journal it stands alone in San Francisco.

No one has a pull on it. No man can cause Barry to swerve from what he believes is right by either friendship, bribery or intimidation, and so it is that the public have become convinced that when wrong is to be assailed, there is one paper that can be depended on to assail it, and that too in a style that leaves no doubt in the mind of the reader as to what Barry wishes to say.

An absolutely unfettered newspaper in a big city, a paper wearing no man's collar, run by a man no one can scare or buy, is something absolutely unique in journalism, and we take pleasure in calling attention to it.

A Bicycle Railroad.

A curious little railroad extends from Bart's Lime Kiln to Tres Pinos in San Benito county, Cal. The grade climbs the Gabilan range a distance of fourteen miles. This road is of the "Bicycle" description, the track consisting of but one rail, which is deeply grooved in the middle. The wheels of the engine and the cars have a tongue of steel running in this groove and are also flanged to further insure their adherence to the track. It costs comparatively little to construct, equip and operate a railroad of this sort. Many localities in this state might be materially helped by such a line, where a road of the usual sort is out of the question.

It is proposed to carry the fight for silver even into the home of the bean eating goldbugs. T. E. Wardner, a bright newspaper man of Boston, proposes to start an afternoon daily newspaper in the city of Boston with the avowed object of spreading the silver doctrine. The paper will be known as the Telegram and will succeed a paper of the same name which recently ceased publication. Mr. Wardner says the papers of Boston are controlled by the bankers, manufacturers and business men and not one of them dare to speak out for silver. The great body of the people in the East are ripe for a revolt against the domination of the goldbugs.

Wednesday's Gazette says: C. T. Bender received this morning a telegram from Elmira, N. Y., conveying the sad news of the death of Newton P. Fassett, the father of Hon. J. Sloat Fassett, New York's Republican nominee for Governor in the election of 1891, and uncle of Mrs. Bender. Mr. Fassett was 65 years of age. He was taken down with la grippe about two months ago, which culminated in his death this morning.
